QUESTION 4

This question is about popular entertainment.

Study the sources below and then answer the question which follows.

Source C

The popularity of the cinema threatens the American way of life. In films sexual relations outside of marriage should not be portrayed as attractive. All crimes should be punished, and neither the crime nor the criminal should get sympathy from the audience. Authority figures, such as politicians, police officers and judges should be treated with respect.

[Part of the Hays Code, proposed in 1929 by William H. Hays, a religious leader. This was a set of censorship guidelines for the film industry]

Source D

Ladies and Gentlemen, what an evening we have had celebrating our fantastic new cinema culture loved by millions. This glorious event has seen the best that America can give. We have seen a great gangster movie win the best script, and the beautiful Janet Gaynor win the best actress award for a wonderful romantic comedy.

[Douglas Fairbanks, an American actor, writer and director, making a speech at the first Academy Awards (The Oscars) in Hollywood, May 1929]

Which of the sources is more useful to an historian studying the popularity of the cinema during this period? [12]

[You should refer to both sources in your answer and use your own knowledge and understanding of the historical context.]
